James Meredith lecturing in NSC auditorium.

Meredith Speaks On Amer. Civil Rights

James Meredith, controversial figure in American civil rights, appeared as a guest of the Townsend Lecture Series on Tuesday, November 28, and spoke to a capacity audience in the Theater for the Performing Arts.

Meredith began his address with a moment of silence for the fighting men in Vietnam. He went on to say that we in the United States are on the crossroads of great decision involving our international and domestic problems. These are, of course, the war in Vietnam and the racial situation here at home.

"Who is to blame for racial tension?", said Meredith. He maintained that in America today the Negro view is that the white man is to blame for his oppression, while the white man feels that the Negro has slowed down the process of civil rights by his violent outbursts in the nation's cities. We must find a solution rather than shifting the blame from one side to the other.

Meredith feels that a solution will only arise when the white man realizes that the non-white is equal and treats him accordingly. "We are tired of the paper rights we have been given", said Meredith, "we want to see some action".

"The white western man is in trouble internationally", said Meredith. "He is used to being the leader of the world and now he is confronted with a war that is challenging him and he doesn't even realize it."

Meredith stated, "My goal is the total destruction of the premise of white supremacy." He said that black people can destroy white society by merely not saving it.

Meredith stated that he objects to the opinion that a single society cannot be accomplished overnight. He

Dungan Sheds Light On Campus Problems At Student Press Conference In Trenton

Dungan Says NSC Has Means For Security Senate Constitution "Patently Wrong"

At a press conference held in Trenton on November 16th, Ralph A. Dungan, Chancellor of Higher Education, stated that security on campus is "not a job only for Trenton," and that the place to begin to solve the problem is on the campus level. "There are adequate means, really there are," the Chancellor said.

The security issue was discussed at the conference held in the Cultural Center in Trenton. Dungan expressed his belief that decision making should not always be left to Trenton, but should be assumed by those lower on the ladder in the college administration, as well as the students and faculty on campus. The more initiative and decision making shown on a lower level, feels Dungan, the more effective will be the result.

"Students are concerned because they say no one is listening to them," said Dungan. He says the student feels frustrated because he is not "plugged in", but he asked "what has your Student Organization done to alleviate the problem?"

The Chancellor expressed his concern with the problem and his intention to help the situation, although he stated, "I am not prepared to say how."

Increase in partial fencing and lighting is now being looked into, although the Chancellor says he is "not optimistic about the fencing idea," calling

Chancellor Dungan

ing it "like putting a line across the DMZ."

Student Council Executive Board is presently discussing the security situation. It is expected that additional recommendations are forthcoming shortly. President Wilkins, agreed with Dungan's proposal that security on campus should come from within. He said that he has been working with the committee on security

As a press conference with Ralph A. Dungan in Trenton, two weeks ago, the chancellor of Higher Education called a controversial clause in the Faculty Senate's constitution "so patently wrong, so stupid."

The Chancellor was referring to the paragraph in the Senate's constitution which has come under attack by the Student Organization. The paragraph states:

"Primarily concerned with instruction, the faculty of the college and its representatives on the Faculty Senate and committees shall be empowered to consider and formulate policies for which the college itself has responsibility in the areas of: Student life and discipline, including athletics, student government and counseling."

Student council presently wishes the Senate to add a sentence which assures their financial and general autonomy from the Senate. Their recommended statement which would be added to the constitutional paragraph states:

College Gets Board, Kean Is Chairman

On Monday November 26, John Kean took office with his board as chairman of the Board of Trustees for Newark State College.

Kean, who resides in Bedminster and is president of the Elizabethtown Gas Company, chairs the board which will govern and set policy for the college, Chancellor of Higher Education, Ralph A. Dungan was present at a luncheon given by Eugene G. Wilkins, President of the College for the new board members on Monday.

Besides Kean, the board includes: Dr. John Brown, Vice President of Research and Development and a member of the board of trustees of the Colgate Palmolive Company; Mr. Aldrage Cooper, Commissioner of Parks and Public Property in New Brunswick and a manager for Bell Telephone Company and Mrs. Laurie Moffet, Legislative Chairman of the New Jersey League of Women Voters.

College Faculties Challenge Closed Door Salary Decision

A new controversy has erupted between the State Board of Higher Education and the Association of New Jersey State College Faculties over the board's "closed-door" policy.

The faculty group is questioning the legality of the State Board's newly-adopted salary schedule. The ANJSCF contends that the schedule is illegal because it was adopted "behind closed doors" and not during the course of a public meeting.

A new Jersey state law requires that any action involving public funds must occur during a public meeting.

Ralph A. Dungan, the Chancellor of Higher Education, agreed that this "should be" the board's future policy. He added that, although the adoption of the salary schedule behind closed doors "well may be" illegal, he was "unaware of any infringements of state law."

The new State Board, which was sworn in last August, is empowered to establish salary scales, however, the statute does not clearly state how, when, or where it may do so.

A spokesman for the board insisted that it was not its intent to conduct business at private sessions. "There has been formal deliberation that the board should not in private. It is something that developed in the rush of getting started."

The Board of Higher Education approved the new salary schedule for state college faculties at a closed meeting on November 13. It previously had authorized Dungan, at a closed meeting in September, to hold negotiations concerning the matter, with faculty representatives. The association, however, termed these negotiations "meaningless", and rejecting the new salary scale as "totally unacceptable," invoked professional sanctions against the state college system.

On November 17, the association met with the board at a public meeting. The association accused the chancellor's office of publishing two different revisions of the adopted salary policy, the second of which was less than that which was offered to faculty representatives during their meeting.

Black Power Forum Packs East Room

Newark State College's Young Republicans Club held a Black Power forum on Tuesday, Nov. 14, which at times turned into a heated discussion on the question of black versus white in America today.

Speaking to an audience of about 200 students and faculty were platform guests: Terry Aubrey of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, and Richard Green of the Newark chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Aubrey presented the view that the civil rights movement in the United States is dead, and that a revolution is in progress.

He said that white men are fools if they think they can push the Negro around, and pointed to Newark, New Jersey and Cambridge, Maryland as examples of the Negro revolution.

Aubrey concluded his address by stating, "If the nation doesn't wake up we can only promise fires to lands, bombs to your homes, and bullets to your behinds."

Green took a less violent stand on the issue. According to him the problem lies in the fact that people don't realize that Negroes and whites have learned to live and work together, and as a result of this, the Negro gets the lower hand when it comes time to qualify for a job or an apartment.

"Today we have reached a new landmark," said Green, "the Negro has realized his responsibility to his own, and that he must get what he wants and needs."

He stated that the Black Power Meetings held in Newark and elsewhere were not meant to establish a new nation, but rather to better the Negro by stabilizing and uniting him.

He ended his address by saying that, "The Negro is not going to wait — he must get what he needs, and he must get it now."

This was followed by an audience participation period in which the question, "what would the Newark riots be labeled as?", was posed to both Mr. Aubrey, and Mr. Green.

Aubrey felt that it could not be called a "race riot." He said that a race riot occurs when more than one group fight or attack each other.

Green also felt the word "riot" was a misnomer. The people involved were rebelling against injustice.

The discussion became somewhat tense when questions concerning the moral issues in rioting, and the Negro college admission quota were brought up. The discussion was finally brought to a close because of a time limit by Dr. Arnold Rice, and those attending were invited to stay and speak with the guests.

At Monday's meeting, the trustees discussed long term plans for Newark State College and toured the new buildings on campus.

President Wilkins stated that he is "gratified with the calibre of person on the board" and expressed his hope for a successful and profitable year.

Senator Ed. Kennedy Calls For Shift To Civilian Action In Viet

by Maureen Higgins

Senator Edward M. Kennedy has urged that the United States shift its priority in South Vietnam "from military action to action which will be of lasting benefit to the people there."

In remarks delivered at the annual Freedom Award dinner for the International Rescue Committee, the Massachusetts Democrat proposed a ten-point plan for improving the nation's refugee program.

He stated that the United States' failure to cope with the refugee problem in particular, had led to "the almost total disruption, and, in many cases, destruction of the fabric of life and society in that nation."

Mr. Kennedy feels that the importance of American refugee efforts even exceeds American "failures in medical care for civilian casualties."

"Our alternative," he said, "is to downgrade our current reliance on conventional warfare and raise the priority of human needs in the social welfare and refugee programs."

The Senator suggested greater emphasis upon "maintaining traditional rural life, insuring the personal safety of the refugees, providing better housing, sanitation, and public health facilities for the thousands now moving into urban coastal areas," and upon programs which would give the refugees a greater voice in measures which are designed to help them.

At the dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria, the rescue committee's annual award was presented to David Sarnoff, Chairman of the Board of the Radio Corporation of America.

Mr. Sarnoff, cited for "distinguished service in the cause of freedom," stated that new approaches to this problem were essential in order to "keep this earth both tranquil and habitable." He advocated the establishment of a "new profession," that of managers of environmental forces, whose respective educational accomplishments would extend from the elementary to the doctorate level. He believes that these "new professionals" would serve both government and industry, and help them "to anticipate the possible effects of new technologies."

Sarnoff feels that this new profession would allow Americans to "deal with technology in its total relationship to the human and natural environment," the physical and social sciences as well as the humanities must plan their efforts in unison.

Senator Kennedy is the chairman of the Senate Sub-Committee on Refugees and Escapees, which has been holding public hearings concerning the Vietnam refugee problem.

The Senator said that the misery of the refugee situation "staggeres the imagination and almost defies comprehension."

"The war has created a rootless people, it has destroyed the familiar ritual and traditions of village life, it has fostered apathy, frustration, and even distrust and hate for our efforts within a significant

$300 Goal Surpassed In Save Children Federation

Friday, November 17, saw the realization of self-sufficiency for the family of NSC's Student Organization Foster child.

Bill Price and Gloria Cordero were commissioned by council to run a drive raising money to purchase a $150.00 sewing machine for Soo Nam Kim's father. A $300 goal was set, in order that the extra money could be donated to The Save The Children Federation.

Council initiated a $50.00 grant in addition to the original motion to sponsor the drive. With this money and the $264.15 that was raised on the 17th, the $300 goal was more than met.

Price commented: "There was a gratifying and generous response from students, faculty and administrators."

Sigma Beta Tau had originally offered their services in providing the footwork for the drive. The sisters of Sigma Kappa Phi also aided in this endeavor.

College Faculties Protest

Chancellor Dungan asserted that the misunderstanding between the board and faculties developed because of "different philosophical viewpoints."

"There is no bad faith on either side," he said, adding that the college faculties "have been used to a" lock-step type of financial arrangements in the past." Dungan also released a memorandum which noted that salaries for professors prior to the board action were from $12,003 to $18,003. Following adoption of the board's scale, the salary range is $13,233 to $21,839. This is comparable to the salary schedule at Rutgers University.

Appointments beyond the salary scale at $15,603 require special recommendation by both the president and the board of trustees at the college in which the professor teaches.

Chancellor Dungan said that the board is "attempting to raise the level of professionalism among college faculties," and that he "deplores a 'time-clock approach' to the profession."

Meredith

points to the fact that the Army ordered integration of troops, and that this integration was carried out with no incident. He maintained that if a similar order came from the "civilian generals" of the nation, integration on a national scale could be just as easily achieved.

Society has been living with a stereotype of the Negro and this must be eliminated for it makes other groups look down on him as inferior.

"The main lesson we must learn is that we can do more together than we can apart. It is the responsibility of the University to realize this and their duty to correct it. We will take no alternative to success."

This was followed by a question and answer period, and all were invited to join Mr. Meredith for personal interview afterwards in the college center.

any way impede or violate the autonomy and freedoms presently reserved to the Student Organization." This would presumably allow the students to continue to control the $50 student activity fee taxed each student which is presently allocated by the Student Organization Finance Board.

Dungan agreed that the monies taxed on students should be assessed by their representatives. "I think you are right," stated the Chancellor.

Student Council is presently discussing the proposal with the Faculty Senate, but Student Organization President Frank R. Nero states that the groups have "reached an impasse." Nero says that if the Senate submits the constitution to approval by the college's board of trustees, Council will lodge a formal protest of the controversial paragraph.

INDEPENDENT

"Truth cannot be forced but must be allowed to plead for itself."

Protection Limited

Security on Newark States campus long a problem, recently a crisis, is long over due. The students in the past weeks have taken pains to report, diagnose, and suggest solutions to the problem. They have pleaded to the college administrators, the municipal officials, the Chancellor of Education, and the Governor himself. Many promises have been made—few have been kept.

It is uncomprehensible that such a problem would receive such a buck-passing treatment. The college's administrators repeatedly said its hands were tied by state restrictions. The Chancellor of Higher Education said the College had the means to meet the problem. The college administrators agreed. The students are getting dizzy, but worse—they are becoming increasingly disgruntled and disgusted.

It has been implied that we should protect ourselves from these vicious attackers. We have been reminded that we are in an urban center and that this type of thing prevails. We have been told that the ratio of attacks to the number of students at the college is small.

What will they tell us when someone is killed?

Students, faculty, and staff must be given adequate protection. Until this protection is provided, every parent should be made aware of the danger that lurks on this campus. Until this protection is provided, every conceivable and available step should be taken to make the community aware and this institution to act.

The treatment this problem has received suggests indifference. We trust this is not the case. Our demands that this campus be made secure, that girls be able to stroll or relax without fear, that our women residents be safe in their rooms and that our men do not have to be vigilantes are not extreme. The steps we may be forced to take to insure these demands are met may have to be.

The Circular Roads

It is shameful to admit that for ten months students and faculty at this institution have been debating, ignoring, cursing and arguing the same issue with no progress whatsoever.

The very people that have called for progress, demanded action, and condemned others for the molasses-like movements have been stagnated for nearly one year and have accomplished nothing.

Since the first voice of dissent was directed at the Senate constitution's provision, the Faculty has embarked on numerous courses. All courses traveled a circular path leading the students to the same end—the same beginning.

In early March of 1967 we were assured the principle of autonomy but never the autonomy that was obviously in question.

To assure that autonomy, to insure their rights the Student Organization passed a resolution asking the Faculty Senate to consider amending the questionable paragraph to read:

Primarily concerned with instruction, the faculty of the college and its representatives on the Faculty Senate and committees shall be empowered to consider and formulate policies for which the college itself has responsibility in the areas of:

d) Student life and discipline, including athletics, student government and counseling. However, this shall not in any way impede or violate the autonomy and freedoms presently reserved to the Student Organization.

A long silence followed. When the Student Council finally questioned why its proposal was not being discussed, the Senate officials said it was unaware of the proposal. A rather stupid statement that was.

The charges and counter charges of irresponsibility flew back and forth between Townsend Hall's second floor and the Student Organization offices. Progress was still at a premium.

Vast concessions were then made and the Student Council and the Student Life committee of the Senate agreed to meet. The Senate then asked to see the student documents, implied the organizations constitution and by-laws should be resolved.

The Board of Trustees has since been appointed and will soon be asked to consider the Faculty Senate's constitution. The Student Council must now see to it that this constitution is not approved by their body.

New Jersey's Chancellor of Higher Education Ralph A. Dungan has called the disputed paragraph stupid. The Independent is in complete agreement.

We urge the Council to inform the trustees of their stand immediately and lobby for the Senate Constitution's revision or defeat is necessary. Action of a beneficial nature is long overdue.

Brotherhood

To the Editor:

I agree with only four words in Frank Nero's protest letter (November 16) against the I.F.S.C.: "Brotherhood is a choice. . . ." The I.F.S.C., contrary to Mr Nero's opinion, does not dictate what choice of brotherhood (or sisterhood) a student may decide to make. Students at N.S.C. are given the opportunity to observe all of the Greek organizations during the I.F.S.C. - sponsored "Meet the Greeks" dance and at the smokers; and students at N.S.C. are given the right to accept or reject whatever sorority or fraternity bids they have received.

The I.F.S.C., which represents the views of the sororities and fraternities on campus as voted upon by their elected representatives, has voted upon certain rules so that there will be a degree of unity among the various Greek organizations on campus. One of these rules is that a member of a sorority or fraternity may not change his or her membership from that Greek organization to another Greek organization. This rule was passed in order to preserve the meaning of loyalty in brotherhood. If Mr. Nero is unhappy with this rule, he can have the I.F.S.C. representative of his fraternity bring up the issue of the unconstitutionality of this rule at an I.F.S.C. meeting so that it can be voted upon. If the rule is not rescinded, let Mr. Nero accept the rule not as a dictatorial command but as a voted-upon decision.

Sincerely,
Linda Levy
Class of '69

Normal Healthy

To the Editor:

In regard to your editorial concerning hazing, we would like to comment. Hazing takes place in one building, not the entire campus. Greeks and their pledges "screaming" "Getting to Know You" and "Side by Side" display a desire to become better acquainted with all members among all Greek organizations. The "childish play" which you describe as "immature" and "asinine" is merely the normal, clean-cut, and healthy expression of college life! And not-in the category of grown men at conventions sliding down banisters or pouring liquor on the street from the window.

The non-involved students are "forced to bear" these activities for three whole days, and yet, no written complaint has been initiated by them. Perhaps you are underestimating their intelligence to understand Greek life or perhaps their display of respect for interest groups?

How is this obstructing the learning and progress of NSC? Hazing is not carried on in the classes nor does it occur in the library! We feel the hazing period brings the Greeks closer together. If anything, it tightens the fraternal structure. Let the Greek spirit live forever!

Sincerely,

Lambda Chi Rho Pledges

Solicit Some Resignations

To the Editor:

With reference to your recent editorial regarding anticipated faculty sanctions and or resignations, may I suggest that a judicious selection of those resignations (energetically and enthusiastically aided by a Council appointed Committee of Recommendations) might happily result in what Newark State has needed for a long time and what students have long and fervently desired—a college!

It must be recalled that history Majors were deprived of all classes from December 1966 to March 1967; that despite all the pious mouthings of the inadequacy of undergraduate courses and the necessity for seminars, not one instructor could be found to hold such seminars for the History Majors even in the face of student offer of payment; that rare indeed has it been to possess a course which

Kappa Delta Pi Sees Avant-Garde Films

by Pat Yuknavage

Wednesday evening, November 15, Newark State College rallied the very best avant-garde "happenings" when Mr. Austin Goodwin of the Fine Arts Department allowed N.S.C. to preview several under-ground films. Mr. Goodwin, guest of Kappa Delta Pi, proved to be a most entertaining and exciting personality with his perceptive observations on the contemporary film making scene. In evaluating the current trend toward cinematography, Mr. Goodwin commented that the new school of film direction is geared toward the projection of "visual excitement" rather than the traditional narrative approach. The films are therefore untraditional and often anti-establishment; they are wholly experimental.

The members of Kappa Delta Pi and other college students viewed three selected films chosen by Mr. Goodwin. The first was a 20-minute production constructed by Mr. Goodwin's former students in which the students exercised their creative talents by painting the film itself in an experimental fashion. The second film was in the "Charlie Chaplin" Genre. Sound was produced by the present day Bob Dylan whose incantation of "Everybody Must Get Stoned" accompanied the selection.

The third and final film was surrealistic in its approach to the problem of what is "real" in our lives. An exploration of the reality of slum living in the "other society," and the reality of our own social existence was poignant and almost frightening.

Kappa Delta Pi is grateful to Mr. Goodwin for a most unique evening. Future guests will include Dr. Angers and Dr. Didsbury of the N.S.C. faculty with other topical subjects.

Prospects For Multi-Million Dollar Bond Issue Are Good According to GOP Senator

At last the prospects for a multi-million dollar bond issue are becoming greater, according to State Senator-elect Raymond Bateman. He admitted it would be necessary for the new GOP Legislature's capital construction program.

Assemblyman Bateman, chairman of the Education Committee before the Democrats took control two years ago, stated that the bond issue would be "presented next year, or the year after that at the latest."

Bateman said of a 1964 $40 million bond issue:

"We knew back then that that bond issue would only be an interim step good for 4 or 5 years. We need something beyond that to face our future needs."

Vice-president of Rutgers University, Malcolm Talbot, stated only recently that his institution's $86 million plans for expansion in Newark "are predicted on the passage of a bond issue." According to Higher Education Chancellor Ralph A. Dungan, a master plan for higher education in the state should be ready for presentation in the spring.

There are strong indications that state educators feel a bond issue will be absolutely necessary even though they haven't called for one and aren't likely to suggest from specifically where the funds to implement the plan will come.

Bateman however, called the 1964 $40 million bond issue a "number one priority" and listed others:

1. Legislative provisions protecting the government against the "transfer problem" with graduates of County Colleges.
2. A change over in the state and education formula.
3. Revising the federal government's participation on the educational loan program.
4. Legislation governing negotiations between public schools and local boards of education should be passed.

Sen. Edwin Forsythe said: "We do not want the master plan handled to us on a take it or leave it basis. The Legislature will have to be a partner in planning for the future needs of higher education."

The GOP legislature was hesitant in stating just what role they would play in supporting the private colleges of the state.

Bobby Kennedy Says US Policy In Vietnam Undermines The Nation

New York Senator Robert F. Kennedy stated that a switch in official rationale for U.S. involvement in Vietnam has resulted in the conflict becoming a means to check Chinese Communism, and by doing so has "seriously undermined" the nation's moral standing.

"All of us should examine our consciences. We're killing innocent people. . . . do we have that right here in the United States to perform these acts because we want to protect ourselves?"

Dean Rusk called the war a testing ground against the threat of a billion Chinese, armed with nuclear weapons, but the Administration denies that this represents anything but a new emphasis on the goal of establishing freedom for the Vietnamese people.

Senator Kennedy, however, feels that the original justification of the war has crumbled. "Our whole moral position, it seems to me, changes tremendously. I think its been badly undermined."

Kennedy maintained that this is the reason that President Johnson and Vice President Humphrey can no longer travel freely around the world or even the United States.

Vice President Humphrey, however, disagreed with the Kennedy stand.

"I believe we're pursuing the right course — the use of power with restraint."

Kennedy stated that he would not support President Johnson for the Democratic nomination but would support him if renominated. He also stated that he (Kennedy) is not a candidate for president.

On the war, Kennedy further stated, "we're going in there and we're killing South Vietnamese — we're killing children — we're killing women — we're killing innocent people because we don't want to have the war fought on American soil or because the Communists are 12,000 miles away and they might get to be 11,000 miles away."

Kennedy concluded by disputing forecasts made by Gen. William Westmoreland, and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker that the U.S. troop commitment could be reduced by 1969.

Newman Club Offers Award Winning Film

The Parable, the award-winning film shown at the Protestant Pavilion during the New York World's Fair, will be presented by the Newark State Newman Club, at their regular meeting this Thursday at 7:30 PM in the East Room. All students and faculty are invited to attend.

The controversial film pictures the experiences of a circus clown who is persecuted by the other members of the circus. Eventually he disappears, but at the end of the movie the clown, or someone carrying out his role, reappears, and the film ends, similar to the way it began.

The movie was widely praised by the New York and national press when it was first shown, and it drew large crowds during its showing at the Fair.

An introductory talk on the film will be given by Fr. Charles Hudson, of Our Lady of Mercy Parish, Park Ridge. The purpose of Fr. Hudson's talk will be to put the film in perspective. There will be a discussion period following the film, open to everyone in the audience.

Beverly Stefanowicz, Newman Club President emphasizes the Ecumenical and open-minded approach of the film, and stressed that she hoped as many members of the faculty and student body as possible could attend. There is no admission to the movie, and one need not be a Newman member or a Catholic to see and appreciate the film.

Masterson In Equador For Peace Corps

James F. Masterson, the son of Mrs. Natalie C. Masterson of 722 Batley Avenue, Elizabeth, New Jersey, has recently been named a Peace Corps Volunteer after completing eleven weeks of training at Sacramento State College.

James F. Masterson is one of 32 new Volunteers who will participate in a youth development program in Ecuador. The Volunteers are assigned throughout the country to help organize teams and develop physical education departments in schools and universities. They will promote local physical education programs both during the school year and vacations, and encourage team competition.

During their training, the Volunteers studied Spanish, the history and culture of Ecuador, community development and methods of teaching physical education. Their November 6 arrival brings the total of Peace Corps Volunteers in Ecuador to over 310, engaged in agriculture, education, community development, cooperatives, electrification and handicrafts.

Masterson is a past President of the Mens Athletic Association and a brother of Sigma Beta Tau Fraternity. He also played basketball for the Squires.

was permitted its full gestation period; and that if sanctions are to be considered as services withheld, documented experience at this institution has shown it to be the general rule rather than the rare exception. One is often reduced to "bootlegging" classes yet, as recently as Wednesday in the Little Theatre at 3:00 P.M. I witnessed an instructor summarily ejecting a student who had committed the unpardonable offence of politely requesting permission to sit in on the class.

As we succeed in our Student Teaching experience, surely it is in spite of most of our professors and not because of any of them. The resignations which are posed as a threat may more accurately and properly be regarded as a promise which the faculty be forced to live up to. We cannot help but benefit from it. We surely cannot receive less than we have been receiving.

This is a coronary occlusion.

It was diagnosed by telephone.

Bell Telephone Laboratories, and Western Electric, the manufacturing unit of the Bell System, have developed an adapting device that attaches to a doctor's cardiograph and to an ordinary telephone. With this adapter, a doctor can visit a patient's home, take a cardiogram, and send the impulses over the patient's phone directly to a specialist's office or hospital equipped to receive the signals. The cardiogram is read, and a diagnosis quickly phoned back to the doctor.

In rural areas this equipment is especially useful. A general practitioner can treat his patient at home while getting advice from a heart specialist miles away.

There are no distance limits, either. One cardiogram was taken on an ocean liner, and transmitted by satellite to a heart specialist in France.

Sending messages from the human heart is just one of the many ways Bell research is adding to the value of your telephone service.

Chi Rips Phi 33-0, Tau Pouts Pi 19-0

Sigma Theta Chi continued their winning ways as they defeated Nu Sigma Phi 33-0 in an I.F.C. touch football game. Chi, now 2-0, scored first on a safety as the Phi quarterback was tagged in the end zone. From then on it was Tom Ziolkowski and Lou Stanzione who broke Phi's back. Ziolkowski scored twice in the first quarter on passes from Stanzione, which made the score 15-0.

The third quarter continued as a defensive battle. Chi then started to move about midway into the quarter, and had the ball deep in Phi territory, when a pass was cut off by Fred Kellish and returned it to midfield. Phi's attack got bogged down again as Al Lungren and company put on a heavy rush. Near the end of the quarter, a Phi punt was returned 55 yards for a TD by Ziolkowski. In the fourth quarter, Phil Masaviglia and Ziolkowski got behind their Phi defenders and scored the last two touchdowns of the game. The game ended after a goal line interception by Al Valentino which stopped a sure Chi touchdown drive.

Tau 19 - Pi 0

Sigma Beta Tau parlayed a strong defense and a steady offense into a 19-0 win over Nu Delta Pi. The Tau defense not only held Pi to one first down, but they also scored Tau's first two touchdowns. Jack Somer and Bob Cross each picked off a Pi pass and ran them into the end zone.

The two scores gave Tau a 13-0 lead and when Frank Lineberry hit Artie Kirk with a fourth quarter scoring pass, Tau's victory was assured, thus pushing them into the title game against Chi.

The Tau defense was led by Jack Somer, Bob Cross, Bill Loehning, John Evangelisti, Clem Restine, and Steve Paolucci. They held Pi to seventeen yards total offense and kept Pi deep in its own territory all day. Frank Lineberry completed 17-26 passes for Tau.

Pi standout included Kevin McConville and Al Ramsey whose spirited play kept the contest from becoming a complete rout.

Chi Tops Tau 8-0 Cops Greek Title

by Fred Hansen

Sigma Theta Chi used a third period Bob Giberna to Tom Ziolkowski touchdown pass and a fourth quarter safety to gain a 8-0 victory over Sigma Beta Tau and annex their third consecutive Greek championship. The game pitted two undefeated untied, unscored upon teams. This was the second consecutive year both team entered the game this way.

The first half was a rugged defensive battle with neither team mounting any sort of scoring threat. The Chi defense was so strong that Tau was unable to gain a first down, while the Tau defence held Chi to a single first down. Midway through the third period Chi took the ball on the Tau 45 and three plays later the deadlock was broken. Ziolkowski caught the ball on the 15 and outlegged two defenders to the goalline.

In the fourth quarter two bad snaps by the Tau center gave Chi its final two points and an 8-0 victory.

So strong was the Chi defence, led by Mike Vitale, Al Lungren, Tony Bruno and Tim Spier, that Tau was unable to pick up a first down until less than two minutes remained in the game. Tau threatened at this point but their attack sputtered on the twenty and Chi took over to run out the clock.

Defensive standouts for Tau included Bob Palma, Bill Loehning, Mike Smith and Bob Cross.

Pi-Tau Game

Nu Delta Pi Dumps Phi 38-6 For 3rd

Nu Delta Pi, its offense clicking for the first time in three years, routed Nu Sigma Phi 38-6 and gained third place in the Greek football tournament. Senior Jack Cioce scored two times and Bill Galayda threw four scoring passes to pace the Pi attack.

Pi scored the first time they had the ball as Galayda and Cioce teamed up on a thirty yard scoring pass. The score remained 6-0 until midway through the second period when Cioce swept end from 15 yards out for the score. Two plays after the ensuing kick-off Rich Merrill picked off a Phi pass and raced down the sidelines for a 19-0 Pi lead.

Phi retaliated quickly as Bill Burke hit Larry Zambowski with a 3 yard scoring pass, on the first play from scrimmage after the kick off. The score remained 19-6 until 15 seconds remained in the half. At this point Bill Galayda hit Ted Gutkowski with an 85 yard scoring pass and Pi was ahead 25-6.

In the second half Galayda hit Dennis Todd and Mike Capazza with scoring passes, as Pi completed the 38-6 rout of Phi.

From First To Last And Back Again In 2 Years

by Fred Hansen

From first to last and then from last to first, sound complicated? It is, but that could be how the basketball picture will be at Newark State when the conference 1967-68 season comes to an end. The Squires won the title two years ago and then last year dropped into the conference cellar. Things look considerably brighter this year as four returning lettermen and a flock of freshmen could combine for a banners season.

Heading the list of returning veterans is 6'3" senior captain, Tom Ziolkowski. Tom has scored over 1,000 points in his career and has averaged over 12 rebounds a game for the past two seasons. Tom has twice been an all-conference selection and last year was an all state college division and as a sophomore he made honorable mention on the CAIA all-American team. Last year he was named most Valuable player on the Squire team as he led the team in points scored, rebounds and foul shooting, despite missing five games.

Another returning player is 6-7 Fred Boff who averaged fifteen points and fifteen rebounds a game last year. Fred pulled off a school record of 36 rebounds against Rhode Island College last year. He received honorable mention on the all State team last year and if he continues to develop, he could be the best center in the conference.

Bob Palma, 5-10 senior, is the only returning guard. A four year veteran, Bob, was named the outstanding defensive player last year. He should be the team quarterback.

George Gilcrest who scored over 200 points and grabbed 100 rebounds last year also returns. The 6-4 sophomore averaged 12 points a game and be over freshman jitters and could contribute much to the team.

The fifth starter will come from a group of four freshman. Blair Reed, 6-2, Cliff Maddox 5-7, and six footers Jim Catalano and Jim Mareno have looked good in practice. One of these freshman will probably start for the Squires.

The three freshman who don't start long with 6-5 sophomore, Tom Murawski will supply the Squires bench strength.

If the starters perform as expected, if the freshman come through, and if Newark can avoid the injury jinx, the conference title could return to the Union campus.

Last Monday, November 20, 1967, our girls' hockey team ended a very successful season. The varsity team was defeated 2-0 by a very rough Montclair team.

A strong defense was put up by Montclair, making it possible for our forwards to score. Newark State's defense worked hard and allowed only 2 goals to Montclair.

Our J.V. Team also lost 1-0.

Our girls had a very successful season. Losing only to Trenton and Montclair. We

Sports Desk

by Fred Hansen

I received some disturbing news from the Eastern College Athletic conference this past week. They sent out their yearly report on sportsmanship rating. Newark State College was ranked 123 out of 189 members rated. This means that Newark State was in the bottom 35%. This is disgusting and I certainly hope that the situation improves this year. Every student attending a basketball game should make it his business to prevent a repeat of last year's performance.

By the way Jersey City State received the highest rating in the conference. They were number two out of 189.

Well, our on again, off again football team is off again. This time an argument between the administration and the student government seems to be the reason. It seems a shame that we can't get a team going. 95% of the people who voted on a referendum voted yes. It is about time that this issue ceased to be an issue in the three way tug-of-war (administration- faculty senate- student government) and became a reality. More on this subject will be coming in future weeks.

A month or so ago I came out in support of council's action on the M.A.A. board. Perhaps, I was a bit too quick with my support. This year the M.A.A. has done absolutely nothing in the field of intramurals. The football program was a flop and nothing else has been offered. The mens constitution which was to have been done by the end of October still isn't finished. It is time the interim board of the M.A.A. and Student Council itself got off their bottoms and did something. Why should all male students suffer because those running the show are incapable of organizing a program.

* * * *

I must render my praise to the four fraternities for their actions and play in the recently completed Greek football tournament. All the games were well played and in contrast to previous years cleanly played with a minimum of roughness. Sportsmanship was the key word this year and for that the fraternities deserve the credit.

* * * *

Congratulations to Sigma Theta Chi on gaining their third consecutive Greek football championship. Over the years spanning these titles Chi has gained 9 consecutive victories, seven shutouts (the last six in a row), and in the last six games have managed to score seven safeties (a rarity in football). Well done Sigma Theta Chi.

Saturday night our Squire cagers open their varsity season by visiting powerful Monmouth College. I hope to see many Squire fans at the game as Newark seeks to rebound from last season's disaster.
